12.00 – 1.00 PM  Walmart Sustainability Milestone Summit: Accelerating progress toward a sustainable future

- The Auditorium

Scientists tell us 2020 marks the beginning of the decade that matters. To avoid warming beyond 1.5 degrees and further degradation of critical landscapes, the world must take immediate action to reverse nature loss and drastically reduce and sequester greenhouse gas emissions by 2030. During this year’s annual Milestone Summit, we’ll take stock of recent progress in sustainability and the challenges before us; share exemplary collaborative initiatives on the leading edge of climate and nature action; and hear from CEOs and other influential business and NGO leaders as they share more about their sustainability aspirations, commitments and initiatives – from confronting climate change and eliminating waste to conserving and restoring our natural resources and improving the livelihoods of people who depend on them.

Speakers  Walmart CEOs and business leaders
- Alan Jope, CEO, Unilever
- Fred Krupp, President & CEO, Environmental Defense Fund
- David MacLennan, CEO, Cargill
- Carter Roberts, CEO, World Wildlife Fund
- M. Sanjayan, CEO, Conservation International
- Mark Schneider, CEO, Nestle Global
- David Taylor, CEO, Procter & Gamble

1.00 - 1.30 PM  Networking and Exhibition

- Climate Group Lounge
- Exhibition Hall

Visit the exhibition or network in the Climate Group Lounge.

1.30 - 2.30 PM  The road to decarbonising industrial heat: The need for a clean heat strategy

- The Auditorium

Heat is the largest contribution to energy consumption in our society. To address the climate emergency, we urgently need to decarbonise the energy required for heat in buildings and industrial processes. However, natural gas remains the predominant source of heating for both the healthcare industry and business at large in many countries. The current reality is that availability of green gas is limited and is not meeting growing demands.

A clean heat strategy is required that addresses the role renewable electricity plays alongside other alternative low-carbon technologies such as green gas, hydrogen and fuel cells. We need to drive private and public sector partnership to ensure that infrastructure and investment exists to meet the demand for clean heat and tackle the climate crisis.

2.30 - 3.00 PM  Networking and Exhibition

- Climate Group Lounge
- Exhibition Hall

Visit the exhibition or network in the Climate Group Lounge.

End of Day One
AGENDA WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

7.00 – 8.00 AM  Networking and Exhibition
- Climate Group Lounge
- Exhibition Hall
Visit the exhibition or network in the Climate Group Lounge.

8.00 - 9.30 AM  RE100 Members’ Forum (CLOSED)
- The Auditorium
RE100 member companies will be celebrated for the many ways they’ve accelerated the transition to a renewables-based electricity system. Their leadership sends a strong signal to markets and policymakers that renewables are a smart business decision.

Join our exclusive RE100 Members’ Forum to:
- Learn more about international renewable electricity markets
- Share best-practices
- Collaborate on scaling up global impact
- Celebrate the first ever RE100 Leadership Awards winners – rewarding those who have gone above and beyond

Speakers
Sam Kimmins, Head of RE100, Climate Group
Aleksandra Klassen, Senior Impact Manager of RE100, Climate Group
Tessa Lee, Senior Corporate Engagement Manager of RE100, Climate Group
Mike Peirce, Corporate Partnerships Director, Climate Group
Dany Qian, Global Vice President, Jinko Solar

8.00 – 9.00 AM  Achieving the Green Industrial Revolution: An exploration of innovative partnerships
- The Auditorium
A radical decarbonization of the industrial sector is essential for the Paris Agreement to be successful. This transformation requires supportive policies, innovative public-private platforms and clear market drivers that support industry innovation. This event will focus on heavy industry decarbonization solutions through market, technology, and policy; highlighting collaboration opportunities between industry and government to drive emission reductions while creating growth

Panelists include representatives from our Under2 Coalition’s Industry Transition Platform; ResponsibleSteel, TCG’s partners in our SteelZero project; heavy industry representatives

9.00 – 10.00 AM  Networking and Exhibition
- Climate Group Lounge
- Exhibition Hall
Visit the exhibition or network in the Climate Group Lounge.

10.00 – 11.40 AM  Conquering the Climate Decade
Have the events of 2020 shifted what governments and businesses can get done?
- The Auditorium
Governments and business have recently shown incredible determination to respond to a major emergency. They’ve created bold programs overnight and intervened in an unprecedented way to protect people’s health and jobs. Can the same approach be taken to the climate crisis? Does the world now have a greater chance of halving global emissions, in this, the Climate Decade? Join us to hear from political and business leaders as we explore what leaders can now do.

Speakers
Damià Calvet, Minister of Territory and Sustainability, Catalonia
Helen Clarkson, CEO, Climate Group

| 12.00 – 1.00 PM | Climate Change, Deforestation and Global Pandemics: Addressing Complex Environmental, Health & Social Issues through Systematic Approaches
- The Auditorium
This event, hosted and moderated by Johnson & Johnson (J&J), will bring together thought leaders from the realms of public health, climate science, and forest conservation to discuss how we can work across disciplines and sectors together at the nexus of these issues and address them systematically. Deforestation and land use change has increased the risk of infectious diseases and pandemics. Now is the time to step back and see how all of these issues - climate, forests and health - are all interconnected and how we may maximize efforts and address all in a coordinated way so we create better health for more people, in more places around the world.

<td>Reimagining Growth in India’s Climate Decade</td>
<td>The Auditorium</td>
<td>India is faced with multifaceted vulnerabilities related to changing climate and this year, the nation reels with series of setbacks like COVID-19, Cyclone Aaphan in the east coast and cyclone Nisarga at the west coast. There is a fear that long term impacts of COVID and increasing frequency of extreme events will adversely impact India’s ambitions of a GDP growth rate of ~9% by the year 2030 and its commitment to chart out a green transition. Join us to hear powerful voices from businesses and government debate the potential pathways for India to take as it steps into the climate decade.</td>
