Just Transitions: From Aspiration to Action
Tuesday, September 22, 9:00 to 11:00 Eastern Time

9:00: Welcome and Introduction
Mafalda Duarte, CEO, Climate Investment Funds

9:10 to 9:20: Summary of Just Transition Initiative Research
Ben Cahill, Senior Fellow, Energy Security and Climate Change Program, CSIS
Summarize research on just transitions concepts and definitions, and highlight ongoing research on more concrete policy objectives and tools to help achieve just transitions.

9:20: Gender and Informal Labor in Just Transitions
This panel will focus on tools and practical guidance related to addressing the challenge of gender inequality and informal labor in just transitions, including green jobs programs and issues related to energy access. The speakers will discuss the importance of addressing these challenges in policy interventions.

Ana Sanchez, Regional Green Jobs Specialist for Latin America, International Labor Organization
Joy Clancy, Department of Governance and Technology, University of Twente; founding member of the International Network on Gender and Sustainable Energy

Moderated by Sarah Ladislaw, Director, Energy Security and Climate Change Program, CSIS

10:05: Place-based Development Plans
This session will explore place-based investment strategies and regional development plans, with a focus on operational issues. The speakers will discuss how multilateral development banks, investors and others have sought to incorporate such strategies and analyze the potential social and economic impact of their investments.

Barbara Rambousek, Director for Gender and Economic Inclusion, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD)
Hubert Strauss, Lead Economist, European Investment Bank (EIB)
Carolina Herrera, Manager, Green Finance and Climate Change, Latin America Project, Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC)

Moderated by Sarah Ladislaw, Director of the Energy Security and Climate Change Program, CSIS

10:55: Closing Remarks
Mafalda Duarte, CEO, Climate Investment Funds
Sarah Ladislaw, Director of the Energy Security and Climate Change Program, CSIS